

Curriculum Vitae

FAVALLI LORENZO, born in Crema (CR)- Italy on March 26, 1961.

Studies.

- Electronic Engineering degree from Politecnico di Milano in 1987 (thesis title: "Implementation of telephone service over the C-NET local area network").
- PhD from Politecnico di Milano in 1991 under the supervision of prof. L. Fratta: thesis title "Rearrangeability conditions for multirate Benes networks".
- In 1990 he spent one year as a visiting scientist at Washington University, St. Louis, MO, USA studying ATM switching networks under the supervision of prof. J.S. Turner.

Prizes and Scholarships.

- Scholarship from SIP (now Telecom Italia) for the development of his graduation thesis in telecommunications ;
- "Oglietti" prize from AEI-CSELT for the best thesis work on switching;
- special prize at the international contest "Computer in the Cathedral" sponsored by NCR and International Cathedral Association for a hypertext based information system;
- Scholarship "AEI-ISS" to spend one year of studies in the USA.

Work experience.

- School year 1985-86 teacher of "Electronics" at the Technical Institute (high school) "G. Galilei" in Crema;
- school year 1986-87 teacher of "Computer science" and "Control systems" at the same school;
- from June 1991 to Sept 2000 Assistant Professor at the Dipartimento di Elettronica of the Università di Pavia where he teaches a course on Digital Communications (Comunicazioni Elettriche 2) and gives a half course on data networks within the official course Communications Systems (Sistemi di Telecomunicazione).
- Since Oct. 2000 he has been appointed as Associate Professor in Electrical Communications at the Dipartimento di Elettronica of the Università di Pavia.